

The AIS Literature Committee is organizing its first mini-conference of students and faculty to present papers, projects, new ideas, and to discuss questions about what we are writing.

Our objective is to share in a non-lecture manner, what literature students and faculty are doing or would like to do.

Students and faculty: please join us and submit your proposals: creative and non-fiction writing, poetry, research projects with faculty, ideas about projects you'd like to discuss. Please limit each proposal to ten minutes.

WEDNESDAY MARCH 28TH from 3 to 4:30 in the YORK ROOM

Send your proposals and name to Peter Scheckner, pscheckn@ramapo.edu, or call, 201 684 7566

(Light refreshments will be served)

Finally, Prince Hamlet comes upon something even more life-changing than discovering his uncle's guilt—Irony!

*"Alas, poor Yorick! I knew him—yet somehow
I did not realize that he was a cow."*
